

CONFERENCE

SUSTAINABLE FISHING IN EUROPE AND IN THE WORLD: GOOD PRACTICES, IDEAS, PERSPECTIVES FOR THE MARINE RESOURCES CO-MANAGEMENT

2015, August 28th • h 16.00 - 19.30 • Teatro "Centro della Terra" Milan Expo

Establishment of Marine Protected Areas has been a fundamental step for the protection of the environment in the Mediterranean basin and abroad. MPAs are a powerful tool for the conservation of the marine and coastal environment as well as for the preservation of the cultural and traditional heritage of many coastal communities through the support of traditional activities. Part of their task is then to promote the sustainable management of areas and biological resources, while creating opportunities for sustainable socio-economic development. Moreover, MPAs can be an ideal laboratory for the testing of an integrated coastal zone management approach.

Chairman:

Giampiero Sammuri, Federparchi President

Salvatore Sanna, Federparchi vice President

MPAs and Artisanal Fishery challenges and opportunities

Paolo Guidetti, Department of Ecology, Nice-Sophia Antipolis University. Nice. France

Artisanal Fishery and MPAs principles co-management and efficacy

Aðalbjörg Birna Guttormsdóttir, Department of Integration, Environment Agency of Iceland. Reykjavík, Iceland

Artisanal Fishery in Northern Sea: Climate change and sea resources management

Puri Canals, Presidente MedPAN, Marseille, France

Best practices within and for the Mediterranean future

Mirvana Feletti, Liguria Regional Authority, Settore Politiche Agricole e della Pesca. Genova, Italy

Fishery and Resources management Policies in EU and Italian Regions

Stefano Donati, Direttore AMP Isole Egadi. Trapani, Italy

Artisanal Fishery and Italian MPAs, a case study from Egadi

Giampaolo Buonfiglio, Unimar Consortium President. Rome, Italy

Artisanal Fishery and MPAs a new alliance for the common future

Carlos Montero Castaño, MSC Marine Stewardship Council, Spain and Portugal Fisheries Manager. Madrid Spain

MSC, an opportunity for the Mediterranean Fishery

Conclusions

Maria Carmela Giarratano, Director General of the Ministry of the Environment, Land and Sea; Directorate General for Nature and Sea Protection. Rome, Italy